For Immediate Release:

Gloucester County Officials Recognize Business Appreciation Month

Governor Terry McAuliffe has proclaimed May as Business Appreciation Month. “As we continue building Virginia’s New Economy, we know how important strong businesses are to the success of Virginia”, according to the release.

In honor of this special month, the County of Gloucester would like to express our appreciation to the hundreds of businesses that make our community a great place to work, live and play. Our entrepreneurial community is dedicated to success and we encourage each of you to celebrate this month with your employees.

Thank you for your continued commitment to Gloucester County. We recognize the importance of our businesses to our continued growth and success.
