Gloucester Director of Engineering Hired

Gloucester County Administrator, Brenda Garton has announced the hiring of Brian D. Lewis, Licensed Professional Engineer, as Gloucester's new Director of Engineering.

Mr. Lewis is a native of Gloucester County having graduated from Gloucester High School and completing his Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering degree from Old Dominion University. Lewis has worked for the City of Newport News for the past eleven (11) years most recently as Chief of Environmental Engineering overseeing the Environmental Services Division.

Mr. Lewis will report to Garrey Curry, Assistant County Administrator for Community Development who previously served as the county's engineer. "We are very fortunate to hire a seasoned engineer with long standing ties to the county," comments Mr. Curry. "I look forward to working with Brian as he leads the Engineering Department."

Mr. Lewis, who officially begins his new duties on December 16, 2013 states "I am pleased to be returning to my hometown and working on behalf of the residents of Gloucester County." He will be paid an annual salary of $82,000.
